The German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD)
Referat 513 "Sprach- und Fachkurse, Informationsreisen"

announces the availability of scholarships for a

Deutschlandkundlicher Winterkurs
for advanced students

for
6 weeks in January and February 2013

A small scholarship with a big impact

Last year's winner of the Eurovision Song Contest, singer Eldar Gasimov (Duo Ell / Nikki) from Azerbaijan, participated in a Sommerkurs (the equivalent for the winter courses for students from the northern hemisphere) at Johann Wolfgang Goethe-Universität in Frankfurt in 2008. He studied piano, practicing singing and acting on the side, and speaks fluent German as he demonstrated in Düsseldorf.

In co-operation with the Universities of Duisburg-Essen (Faculty of Arts), Freiburg (SLI-Sprachlehrlinstitut), Leipzig (interDaF e.V., Herder-Institut) and the IIK Dueseldorf (in co-operation with Heinrich-Heine-Universität Düsseldorf), the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) is once again offering scholarships for a six-week Deutschlandkundlicher Winterkurs from January to February 2013. This is an exciting opportunity for students and junior faculty members with a sound knowledge of German (min. B1, preferably B2) wanting to improve their language skills and their understanding of contemporary affairs.

The course is open to all Australian and New Zealand undergraduates, graduates and junior faculty members, except graduates involved in German and German faculty courses. All lectures of the Deutschlandkundlicher Winterkurs will be held in German. Please address any questions regarding credit transfer to your home university.

Duration and locations
- Courses will last six weeks from January to February 2013 (exact dates depend on selected course)
- Applicants will be able to nominate a preferred course location on the application form
- Accommodation is booked via the course organiser

Scholarships include
- A flat rate course allowance of EUR 750 (ca. AUD 960)
- A travel allowance of EUR 550 (ca. AUD 700)
- A part-cost grant of EUR 975 (ca. AUD 1250) for living expenses

Participants should allow EUR 250 to EUR 300 (ca. AUD 400, depending on the current exchange rate) of their own funds for additional expenses.
Eligibility Requirements

- Applications from advanced students of all subjects will be accepted, provided they have completed at least two years of university education at the beginning of the Winterkurs. Graduates and PhD students may also apply, except graduates involved in German and German faculty courses.

- Applicants must have an Australian or New Zealand passport and must be enrolled at an Australian or New Zealand university.

- Applicants must prove a sound knowledge of German in order to be able to follow lectures and work in study groups. By January 2013, they must have completed at least 2 years of German (not necessarily at university) and gained language skills at the European level B1, preferably B2.

- Applicants studying for a Bachelor degree may apply provided they are planning to study for a Master's in Germany after finishing their Bachelor degree or where equivalent reasons for receiving a scholarship are given. Such a reason could be e.g. the preparation of a thesis during the applicant's Honours year.
